Wrestling Events

No Rest For the Wicked?

Bruce would have been pleased to see the junior wrestlers at Ceres Highland Games this year, their fighting spirit was the same as shown by the nineteen men from the village who marched to Bannockburn 695 years ago. Cameron O'Raw of Hamilton Wrestling Club was awarded the Spence Ostler trophy for the best junior wrestler and when he handed the beautiful trophy over to his delighted father, his father said, "Whit a peety Ah cannae hansel this the nicht." When Sir Menzies Campbell, the Games Chieftain asked why, he replied, "the boys are competin the morn in a judo competition at Meadowbank and the weight-in starts at 8am, but ye can be certain, the morn's nicht it wullnae be fu fur lang."

Dundee wrestlers totally dominated the adult competition and the 10st 7lbs Scottish championship but the identity of the two finalists was a surprise, last year's champion David Blair was beaten 3-2 in the first semi-final by club mate John Anderson and David Fairfield easily countered George Reid's lightning attacks to beat him 3-1 in the other semi. The actual final was an anti-climax when David Fairfield easily took the title with three quick falls, but there was no hiding his pride and delight when Sir Menzies Campbell presented him with the magnificent Ceres Plate, the second year in succession that it has gone to a Dundee wrestler. David MacPherson of Hamilton the lightest man in the competition continued his rise up the rankings by winning a third and a fourth place. At Helensburgh last week he took two seconds and a third and is this year's most improved wrestler.

The junior wrestling was badly affected by the rain on the way between Glasgow and Fife, which discouraged many of the parents who just turned around and went home. Some categories had to be cancelled but the wrestlers who came turned on a number of scintillating performances despite their smaller than usual numbers.
